A Coulter Wells, secretary, called upon the association to approve of a resolution showing its patriotism to the country. The resolution sets forth that the organization shall stand by the President in the present crisis, and it was adopted.

An effort was made by a member to have the association adopt a resolution urging Congress to take over the street railways of the District. President Thompson explained that the association could not take up such a resolution, as it did not deal directly with matters in the immediate community. It was finally voted to have the delegate from the organization present the matter to the Pederation of Citizens Associations.
